

Cannabis - Everything You Need to Know About Cannabis Therapy in the 21st Century

November 12, 2021

Jeffrey Hergenrath, MD

Jeffrey Hergenrath, MD began his medical career as a general practitioner in 1976. His practice included general medicine, OB-GYN, pediatrics, neonatal care, and emergency medicine. After over 25 years in emergency medicine, he began his medical practice in cannabis consultations and general medicine consultations in 1999.

Dr. Jeffrey Hergenrath is a cannabis consultation physician who practices in Northern California. He is also President of the Society of Cannabis Clinicians, Vice President of the American Academy of Cannabinoid Medicine (AACM), and a member of the International Cannabinoid Research Society.

He has worked with hundreds of patients, carefully recording his observations along the way. At numerous CME-accredited medical conferences, he has delivered illuminating presentations on how cannabis treats diseases along with actual results from patients. For example, at the Patients Out of Time Eighth Clinical Conference on Cannabis Therapeutics, he helped lead the Doctors Workshop. This mini-seminar was attended primarily by physicians. His presentation included substantial information on cancer, including human success stories and the importance of THC:CBD ratios.

Dr. Hergenrath received his MD from Brown University in 1975 and believes that cannabis is an alternative/ complementary medicine with trivial negative impacts. He was named Medical Professional of the Year in the Americans for Safe Access' 2015 Excellence Awards.
